

KACDE - JUNE 2011 SUPERSTAR AWARD

Mr. David Jenning

KACDE proudly presents our June 2011 Superstar Award to Mr. David Jennings, of the Fairground Ridge Community in Lee County.

Lee County is situated in the foothills of the Appalachian Mountains in eastern Kentucky and David has lived here all of his life. He married his college sweetheart, Judy, and they have three beautiful daughters. They are very proud of their girls, two of which have graduated college. Their middle daughter shares the same love of the land as her father. She recently accepted a position teaching agriculture at Estill County High School, in order to share that passion with her students in eastern Kentucky.

David has served as an active member of the Lee County Conservation District Board of Supervisors for twenty five years. He currently holds the position of Secretary/Treasurer for the District. He accomplished a personal milestone this year, retiring from the Lee County School System after completing thirty one years of working in the classroom and counseling at both the middle and high school levels.

David and his wife own and operate a farm featuring a successful cow/calf operation and are involved in hay production. They also enjoy working in their vegetable and flower gardens. Now that retirement has become a reality, they plan to increase all aspects of their farming operation.
